

Twain Twin

We're featuring this pretty Victorian for its striking resemblance to Samuel Clemens' home—aka the Mark Twain House & Museum—just over a mile away. Clemens' 25-room mansion was built on a much grander scale, with his foyer famously crafted by Tiffany artisans. The listing pictured here, at 821 Prospect Avenue in West Hartford (down the street from the People's Project) was built in 1870, three years before Clemens started construction. It features gorgeous woodwork, stunning stained-glass windows, seven fireplaces, five bedrooms and three bathrooms, plus one half bathroom. Jacquelyn Allingham of Prudential Connecticut Realty in West Hartford has the $599,000 listing. 860-561-8088.

LITCHFIELD COUNTY ESTATE

$5 MILLION WASHINGTON

This Shingle-style compound seems tailor-made for house parties that last all weekend. There are plenty of places to put up guests, starting with the charming, two-bedroom guest cottage clad in weathered barn siding. The circa-1850 main house has six bedrooms and five bathrooms (plus one half bathroom) and loads of space to entertain, including a large kitchen, a family room with a stone fireplace and a living room with exposed beams and views onto the terrace. And then there is the 50-acre property that ensures both privacy and a great first impression: The approach to the home features a long, tree-lined drive ending in a front courtyard. The grounds also offer a pool and pergola, tennis courts, a large pond, waterfalls and a barn. Peter Klemm of Klemm Real Estate has the listing 860-868-7313, ext. 24.
