KLEMM AGENT IS REALTOR OF THE YEAR AGAIN

(Roxbury, Connecticut) – According to the Greater New Milford Board of Realtors, Klemm Real Estate agent and Roxbury resident, Wayne Piskura has been named 2016 Realtor of the Year. The award selection is based upon realtor spirit, civic activity, business accomplishments, local, state, and national board activities. This is the second time Wayne has received this honor.

“We are so thrilled for Wayne who is being honored as the Realtor of the Year. Wayne is a lifelong resident know as ‘Mr. Roxbury.’ He is such a dedicated local expert on this real estate market and all-around nice man. We congratulate Wayne,” said Graham Klemm, president and broker at Klemm Real Estate.

Wayne Piskura has been in real estate for 25 years. He began his career with William Pitt Real Estate in the New Milford office. In 1993 he moved to Tierney Realty in his hometown of Roxbury. As luck would have it, just two years later, company founder Ed Tierney decided to retire and sold the business to Wayne and his wife Bette. Wayne and Bette ran Tierney Realty Inc. until 2009 when Wayne moved to Klemm Real Estate, heading their Roxbury Office right up into the present.

His family roots go back over 150 years in Roxbury, attending local schools, as did his two children. Prior to being a realtor, he was a home builder, and still designs homes in his spare time. He has been active in town government since 1986, serving on the inland wetlands commission, the board of selectmen, and currently in his 20th year on the town's board of finance.

Wayne has served as a director of the Greater New Milford Board of Realtors for several years and was honored to receive the designation of Realtor of the Year in 1999. He is also a professional standards certified specialist, and currently serves the board on its grievance committee.

“It’s a joy to be recognized for doing what I love, in the geographic area that I love, with the people I love,” beams Wayne Piskura, broker with Klemm Real Estate. “I’ve always been interested in houses—homes. Even as a child I was fascinated by the differences in my friends’ homes and how each home reflected the people in it. I started designing houses when I was about 12 and gave a lot of thought to becoming an architect. Instead I started off building homes, and doing some design as part of that business. Eventually I found my way into real estate, where it all seemed to come together: the houses, the people, and how to fit one to the other. The magic is in finding just the right match.

“Real Estate is not only a career-it’s a lifestyle. I live it every day. I guess you could say that I found my home in real estate,” he finished.

Klemm Real Estate has offices located in Washington Depot, Woodbury, Litchfield, Roxbury, Lakeville/Salisbury and Sharon. Staffed by 40 associates serving Litchfield County for about 30 years.
