

LAKE VIEWS IN LITCHFIELD COUNTY

A ROOM—OK, 10 ROOMS—with a view! The property in Warren, Connecticut, offers vistas of Lake Waramaug, and more.

Nestled on 9.25 acres in Litchfield County, the home includes five bedrooms, five bathrooms, and two half-bathrooms. Constructed in 1999, the structure boasts 6,358 square feet. Throughout, features such as cathedral-style ceilings and expansive windows encourage light and a sense of airiness.

The kitchen is eat-in, and includes a bay window, granite counters, an island, a Sub-Zero refrigerator, and Viking appliances. The living room features two 20-foot fireplaces with stonework. Other amenities include an audio system, central air, french doors, a security system, and skylights.

This page, clockwise from above: A view of Lake Waramaug; the living room with cathedral-style ceilings and two 20-foot fireplaces with stonework; the master suite includes a sitting area; the heated gunite pool; the sitting room with a fireplace and wood paneling. Opposite page, clockwise from above: The covered stone terrace is decorated with greenery; the attractive exterior of the 6,358-square-foot home in Litchfield County; the third bedroom boasts a balcony with views; the driveway is lush with trees; the living room, from another angle.

Outside, there's a screened porch and a covered stone terrace as well as a heated gunite pool with a covered cabana and a sculpture. And don't forget the tree house!

This property is one-of-a-kind, because of its wealth of amenities inside and its surroundings outside. The views of Lake Waramaug are sensational—an example of Litchfield County at its very, very finest. ♦

For more information, contact Carolyn Klemm of Klemm Real Estate at 860.868.7313 or carolyn@klemmrealestate.com.

COURTESY OF KLEMM REAL ESTATE

