Nathaniel Stevens Homestead

This historic 1780's home is proudly positioned on 2.66± level acres at the entrance to scenic Canaan Valley. Once occupied by Nathaniel Stevens who was a deputy commissioner to George Washington. It has also been featured in Better Homes and Garden magazine. Though updated and well-maintained the home still offers many period details including wide hardwood floors and antique hardware. Complete with a two-story barn for horses, workshop, storage, etc. A wonderful country property.
